

OBITUARY.

AGUSTIN G. de YTURBIDE.

The funeral services at St. John's (R. C.) Church, this morning, etc. Agustín G. de Yturbe, eldest son of the Liberator of Mexico, in the 69th year of his age, died at the Clarendon Hotel, New York, on Tuesday, the 11th instant.

Biographical Sketch of Don Agustín G. de Yturbe and His Family. On Tuesday evening, at the Clarendon Hotel, in New York city, died Don Agustín G. de Yturbe, son of Yturbe Primo, Emperor of Mexico.

Don Agustín was slightly deformed in his person, differing from the majority of those who are affected in this manner, by a genial, unassuming manner. He was strongly addicted to many of the characteristic Mexican customs, including a free use both of megal and monte.

Maximilian had ordered all the theatres to be thrown open freely to the public on the night of the fete day of the Emperor Yturbe. Late in the evening, Don Agustín, accompanied by several friends entered the imperial box at the opera house.

Mexicans! you want a speech from me, eh? Well, you shall have one. You want me to speak as the son of the liberator of Mexico, the conqueror of the empire. Well, he was your chosen Emperor; he was the only honest man in Mexico, and so you should be doing his honors, and not those of the usurpers and assassins that you always were and always will be!

Whether the truth of the flattering remarks was felt by the audience, or whether they were the result of the flattery, is not known; but the speech was received with a storm of applause and outbursts of laughter, under the conduct of which Don Agustín was carried off by his friends.

Agustín G. de Yturbe, Emperor of Mexico, was born in Valladolid, de Michoacan, in 1784, and executed in Padilla, July 19, 1824. At an early age he entered the militia of his native province, and in 1810 became lieutenant in the regular army of the emperor.

The Archbishop of Canterbury has been thirty years in the ranks without publishing anything, sermon or treatise.

The country should render him a public eulogy. July 14 he landed near the Fort of Soledad Marina, and having made application to General Garcia for passports, was arrested and conducted to Padilla. At 6 o'clock in the afternoon, having confessed himself, he was taken to the place of execution.

ENGLAND. A Series of Fatal Colliery Explosions in Yorkshire—Over Three Hundred Persons Killed at the Oaks Pit, Barnsley—Melancholy and Exciting Scenes.

BARNSELY (ST. MARY), YORK COUNTY, WEST RIDING, December 12, P. M.—One of the most fearful fatal colliery explosions which has ever taken place in the coal districts of England occurred at the Oaks Colliery, near this town, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon of to-day.

The scene of the fatal casualty is the most extensive coal pit in the district, the shaft running to a depth of two hundred and seventy yards. The works extend fully two miles under ground, and are at all times during labor hours filled with the number of hands requisite to keep up their great production, and fitted up with every necessary and convenient tool.

This morning about four hundred persons, men and boys, commenced work in the pit at the usual hour, and went on until near the hour of 1 o'clock, when a terrific explosion, supposed to have taken place in the coal district of England, occurred at the Oaks Colliery, near this town, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon of to-day.

The men add that there are no more persons alive in the workings. If this be so, over three hundred persons have been killed by the explosion. The first explosion occurred at the Oaks Colliery, near this town, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon of to-day.

A Second Explosion—Many of the Volunteers Killed. BARNSELY, December 13.—Another explosion has taken place in the same Oaks colliery pit. It happened at nine o'clock this morning, and while the men were employed in drawing up the shaft.

Another Explosion in Stafford. London, December 13.—Evening.—Another terrible explosion has taken place in a colliery in Stafford, attended with great loss of life.

Mysterious Absence of Louis Fox, the Billiard Player. From the Rochester Democrat, 12th.

Apprehensions are felt by the family and friends of Mr. Louis Fox, the distinguished billiard player of this city. He has not been seen or heard from since Tuesday forenoon of last week, when he left his residence on North Clinton street, apparently in his usual dress.

The Freedmen's Monument to Abraham Lincoln.

A model in plaster of the Freedmen's Monument to Abraham Lincoln, designed and executed by Miss Harriet Hosmer, reached this city a fortnight since from Rome, and in response to a invitation a large number of ladies and gentlemen visited the Statuary Room of the Boston Athenaeum to-day to witness a private exhibition of the same.

It is an admirable design, a monument to record the life and services of Abraham Lincoln, it has endeavored to express the idea that the Temple of Fame which we rear to his memory, is based upon the two great acts of his career, the preservation of the Union, and the preservation of the Freedmen.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN; MARTYR-PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES; EMANCIPATOR OF FOUR MILLIONS OF MEN; PRESERVER OF THE AMERICAN UNION.

Upon this rests a circular base, forming the immediate base of the column, and which represents a bas-relief, composed of thirty-six figures, hand-in-hand, symbolical of the union of the thirty-six States.

It is needless to say that in so small a space but little study could be given to the monument. The bas-relief was designed by the artist, and the character of each separate State would be preserved, and the architectural ornaments, would bear the appropriate coats of arms.

LEGONRY, September 15, 1866. The model is a very beautiful one, and large enough to give an excellent idea of the appearance of the monument when completed.

The prominent scenes in Mr. Lincoln's history, above alluded to, by the sculptress, are finely brought out. The model is placed on the highest credit upon Miss Hosmer's abilities and superior judgment.

The Pennsylvania Senatorship. Colonel John W. Forney retires from the contest for Senatorship in Pennsylvania in favor of Thaddeus Stevens, in the following letter:—

WASHINGTON, D. C. December 13.—My Dear Sir:—Since I wrote you yesterday I have carefully considered the several suggestions I ventured to you in regard to the election of a Senator from Pennsylvania for six years from the 4th of March, 1867, and every moment's additional reflection has only confirmed me in the course I have taken.

Theodore Tilton on Women's Rights. OREGON, December 4, 1866.—Susan B. Anthony's Friend:—I cannot be a wandering or a prairie. But were I at Cooper Institute, I would claim the ballot for women as for men.

THEODORE TILTON. A bankrupt merchant returning home one night, said to his noble wife:—"My dear, I am ruined; everything we have is in the hands of the sheriff."

The old pistol with which Colonel Richard M. Johnson killed the great Indian warrior Tecumseh, at the battle of Tippecanoe, was sold last week to Mr. Cloyd McGavock, by Captain John H. Allen, Auctioneer, at the sale of Mr. P. Nowlin, of this county.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE EVENING TELEGRAPH.] WASHINGTON, December 14. The receipts from internal revenue sources for the present fiscal year, commencing July 1, 1866, up to the 12th instant, inclusive, amount to the heavy aggregate of $167,000,000. This is an average of over $500,000 per diem for nearly six months past, or one-half of the fiscal year of 1867.

Financial Matters. From sources of information usually well informed, I learn that the Treasury Department does not desire to keep down the premium of gold below forty per cent. at present.
